00260000. MUNICIPAL INDUSTRIAL REVIEW BOND PROJECT RECORDS EVT+13 DEST Y

Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation (WEDC) allocates the bonding authority or volume cap that allows municipalities to issue Industrial Revenue Bonds (IRB) on behalf of expanding manufacturing businesses and other entities. WEDC reviews and processes the volume cap applications from the businesses. WEDC also monitors and maintains documents that are required to be submitted by IRB recipients.

Records in the series may include but are not limited to:

- WEDC application- detailing the business expansion project and its economic impact, and a staff review of the application and project, including documentation on fees and deposits required under the WEDC Program Guidelines for the IRB Program, bond counsel correspondence and the volume cap allocation certification
- Required documentation includes letters of estimates of attorney's fees to be paid from bond proceeds, initial resolutions, and the accompanying proof of publication, closing notification letters and job impact notices. The initial resolution verifies that the municipal has approved its intent to issue the IRB on behalf of the business.
- Closing letters provide information on when the bonds were issued, interest rate, term, bond buyer and type of sale
- Job impact notices provide detail on the number of jobs to be created, maintained, and eliminated as a result of the project
- Performance report from the award recipient
- Paper project files, paper industrial revenue bond approval files, excel spreadsheets and corresponding electronic records
- Bonds are records belonging to the municipalities for the assurance of industrial revenue bonds
- Closeout awards, for those bonds that are closed out
