Board of State Bar commissioners and bar applicant's application and examination admitted to the practice of law in WI by bar examination Supreme Court Rule 40.04, or on proof of practice elsewhere. Supreme Court Rule 40.05.

Retention Justification: It is important to retain these files because there may be applicants who withdrew, were denied admission or had conditional admission because of serious character and fitness issues. These files would need to be referenced should they reapply. There also may be attorneys who run into character and fitness issues while practicing. These files would need to be referenced if the Court or The Office of Lawyer Regulation would initiate an investigation.

Change Justification: Records prior to 1978 were kept in the Court of Appeals office under RDA #28 and #29 and at disposition were sent to the Wisconsin Historical Society (WHS). When Board of Bar Examiners department was created in 1978, RDA #14 was created but marked "destroy confidential" but should have been marked "Transfer to WHS".

Relevant Rule: Confidentiality: Supreme Court Rule 40.12. "The application files of an applicant and all examination materials are confidential. The supreme court or the board may authorize the release of confidential information to other persons or agencies."

RETENTION: EVENT (Date admitted to practice law) + 45 years and transfer to State Archives (WHS)

The Office of Lawyer Regulation (OLR) is an agency of the Supreme Court of Wisconsin that receives inquiries and grievances relating to attorney misconduct and medical incapacity, conducts investigations, and prosecutes violations of the Rules of Professional Conduct. This series consists of OLR's preliminary evaluation files and investigation files. These files include, but are not limited to, grievances, responses to grievances, correspondence, legal documents, and other investigative documents (e.g., witness statements, subpoenas, etc.)

Some of the material in these files may contain confidential or privileged information or otherwise personally identifiable information. These files may also contain material that is privileged and/or confidential because it is covered by the attorney-client privilege, Wis. Stat. § 905.03, the attorney work product doctrine, Supreme Court Rule 21.19, and/or Supreme Court Rule 22.40.

The Office of Lawyer Regulation (OLR) is an agency of the Supreme Court of Wisconsin that receives inquiries and grievances relating to attorney misconduct and medical incapacity, conducts investigations, and prosecutes violations of the Rules of Professional Conduct. This series consists of OLR's investigative, disciplinary, and reinstatement case files. These files include, but are not limited to, investigative documents (e.g., grievances, responses to grievances, witness statements, subpoenas, underlying legal documents, etc.), legal documents (e.g., complaints, pleadings, discovery, motions, stipulations, orders), and reinstatement documents (e.g., petitions for reinstatement, letters of reference, investigative documents). When a disciplinary, medical incapacity, or reinstatement complaint or petition is filed with the Supreme Court, a Supreme Court case file is created. The Clerk of the Supreme Court is the records custodian and those records are subject to SCRs or RDAs relating to the Supreme Court and/or Clerk.

Some of the material in these files may contain confidential or privileged information or otherwise personally identifiable information. These files may also contain material that is privileged and/or confidential because it is covered by the attorney-client privilege, Wis. Stat. § 905.03, the attorney work product doctrine, SCR 21.19, and/or 22.40.

Some records relating to attorney misconduct and medical incapacity created before October 2000 may be records of the Board of Attorneys Professional Responsibility and/or the State Bar of Wisconsin.
